

Sheriff's Posse Searching For Louis Krueger

Brother of the Famous Krueger Bros., Now in Prison for Murder, Who is a Draft Evader and Fugitive (By United Press)

Eau Claire, Wis., May 1.—A big posse of men today surrounded the swamp at the rear of the Krueger home near Pithee, scene of the famous "battle of the Krueger farm" in search of Louis Krueger, alleged draft evader and fugitive, brother of Frank and Lester Krueger who are now serving life sentences for the murder of H. Jensen during the battle.

Authorities have been searching for Krueger ever since the battle in September, 1918. Word was received early today that he had been seen at the old home.

Sheriff Weaver of Neillsville, and others started after him. He is believed to have disappeared in the swamp. Word was sent for assistance and search was on at once by the posse. Officials are waiting for blood hounds to aid them.

Plot to Furnish Mexican Rebels Arms

Was Frustrated Today at St. Louis by the Arrest of Principals Who Came to Buy Them (By United Press)

St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—A plot to furnish the Obregon revolution in Mexico with American arms was halted here today, according to an alleged confession by Manuel M. Pietro who said he was the former mayor of Juarez and member of the Mexican congress.

Pietro was taken into custody last night with another Mexican who gave his name as Raymond Marlin. About $30,000 in American currency was found in their possession. Police detectives said Pietro said he came here to buy arms.

Mexican Elections Are Postponed

(By United Press)

San Antonio, Texas, May 1.—The Mexican presidential election called for July 4 has been postponed because of the activities of revolutionists a dispatch to La Prensa, a Mexican newspaper here, declared today. The dispatch was from Mexico City.

Congress may be called in an extraordinary session to name a Provisional president to assume the office in December when President Carranza's term expires, the dispatch declared.

Big Liner Sinks In Mexican Waters

(By United Press)

San Francisco, May 1.—The liner San Mateo, owned by the Pan-American line of San Francisco, sank off the breakwater at Salina Cruz on the west coast of Mexico, according to advices received here today. The report did not say whether any lives were lost. It is believed the crew of twenty-one escaped on the breakwater as the ship was first reported stranded on the breakwater.

French Laborers Go On 24 Hour Strike

To Demonstrate Its Solidarity—Strike Is General—Indefinite Railroad Strike Called (By United Press)

Paris, May 1.—The twenty-four hour general strike called by French labor to demonstrate its solidarity apparently was generally complete today.

At 10 A. M. practically all work in Paris had been stopped. Only a few street cars, busses and subway trains were in operation.

There were no indications of violence and the city was quiet. Additional troops were brought in last night and small patrols kept the streets clear and the crowd moving. Police were confident there would be no outbreaks.

The railroad strike seemed to have met with general response, although government leaders believe it would collapse shortly.

Government leaders shortly before noon claimed the strike would "fizzle out" in the east and north. Traffic on the main lines was normal and traffic on other lines was only partly stopped.

Railroad leaders said the men were out for an indefinite period and are trying to force nationalization of the lines. They were supported by the miners.

First Violence Reported

Paris, France, May 1.—The first violence recorded in France's Mayday twenty-four hour strike here was reported today. Thirty policemen and twenty laborites were injured when workers tried to force the police lines at Dela Republique. About 30 persons were arrested.

No General May Day Strike Today

Less Than 25,000 Workers are on a Strike, Although Thousands Threaten Walkouts (By United Press)

Chicago, May 1.—Mayday found the labor situation in the west considerably improved today as compared with a year ago.

Reports show that less than 25,000 workers were idle as a result of the strike, though thousands were threatened with idleness from walkouts planned in case their wage demands were refused.

Street car employees in Chicago and Detroit are preparing to strike next week if their demands for wage increase is turned down.

Several thousand hotel and restaurant employees were planning a walkout tomorrow if employers rejected their demands for 35 per cent wage increase. They say it will result in closing down practically all hotels, cafes and lunch rooms.

Detroit street car men were to receive their answer today.

In Chicago less than 3,000 workers were on strike.

Labor as a body planned no demonstration it was said here, though radical organizations are expected to stage a few parades and meetings.

From 10,000 to 20,000 shipyard workers were reported out on strike at San Francisco. They demand recognition of their union. Several hundred tailors there are demanding $1 an hour, and switchmen out total 250.

In Detroit 2,000 railroad workers were still out. Indianapolis had 2,500 out. At St. Paul 150 ice men were on a strike for $1.35 an hour until today when they returned to work on a compromise at $1.25 an hour. This resulted in a 27 per cent increase in prices for ice.

General Strike Failed to Materialize.

Washington, May 1.—The general strike called for May day failed to materialize, reports to the government department showed today.

The strike situation throughout the country is better than it has been for weeks, according to Hugh Kerwin, director of the bureau of conciliation of the labor department.

Kerwin is in possession of reports showing that in the week ending last night, fewer strikes were reported to the department than in the previous two weeks.

Only Petty Radicalism.

In Chicago a red flag bearing the inscription in yellow, "Hurrah for the Soviets," was nailed to a flag pole in a school yard. Lieut. John Dicks supplanted the red flag with the American colors and the event was turned into a patriotic meeting with several hundred cheering and singing.

Peace Resolution Will Pass Senate

Will Come Up for Consideration Next Wednesday—President Will Veto It Undoubtedly (By United Press)

Washington, May 1.—Adoption of the Knox peace resolution by the senate was conceded today by Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska democrat, who will lead the opposition. He expects President Wilson to veto it however.

"My expectation is that it will be passed by a strong party vote and President Wilson will veto it," said Hitchcock.

"The resolution is a mighty weak affair and some of its provisions are absolutely ridiculous."

The peace resolution will come up in the senate Wednesday, Senator Lodge announced.

British Labor Took Vacation

(By United Press)

London, May 1.—British and European labor today generally demonstrated its complete solidarity by stopping work for twenty-four hours in observance of May day—the European labor day.

In London the press did not anticipate more than a May time "effervescence" though radical demonstrations had been threatened by some of the radical railroad laborers.

St. Louis Seismograph Reports an Earthquake

(By United Press)

St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—An earthquake disturbance lasting thirty seconds was seismographed at the St. Louis University at 9:15 a. m. today, according to Professor B. J. Goessse in charge of the instrument. He said the shock centered between a hundred and two hundred miles from St. Louis and was violent.

Soldier Bonus Bill Will Be Delayed

Opposition to Some of the Provisions of the Bill in Republican Caucus Prevents Its Endorsement (By United Press)

Washington, May 1.—Soldiers' aid legislation in congress today faced an indefinite delay due to the failure of the house republicans meeting in a caucus last night, to endorse the bonus bill as reported from the ways and means committee.

Outspoken dissatisfaction against several features of the measure broke out suddenly in the republican ranks. As a result all plans to force the bill through the house Monday have been abandoned.

Republican leaders admitted it probably will be impossible to pass the measure through both houses before the congressional recess early in June.

Search Made For Grave of Murdered Wife of Bluebeard

(United Press)

Los Angeles, Cal., May 1.—"Bluebeard" Harvey, who married twenty-five women, and is alleged to have confessed to have murdered four of them, today may be used as a guide to direct detectives to the grave of Nina Lee Deloney, one of the four missing wives.

A party headed by District Attorney Thomas Woolwine, using the map drawn for them by Harvey, searched all night but failed to find the grave. Searching operations were suspended to get Harvey to assist them in locating the spot in Berego Valley, where he is alleged to have buried the victim.

Harvey is convalescing in a hospital recovering from two attempts at suicide.

Must Produce Body

Los Angeles, Cal., May 1.—"Bluebeard" Charles N. Harvey must produce the body of Nina Lee Deloney, one of his alleged four murdered wives, or stake a chance against hanging without jury.

District Attorney Woolwine served this ultimatum on Harvey that after a fruitless search on the sunbaked desert of the Berego Valley for the spot Harvey said he buried the body after beating her to death with a hammer.

Woolwine told Harvey that unless the woman's body was found the agreement by which he was to confess, plead guilty and be given a life sentence instead of death, will be cancelled.

Lumbermen Go On Strike Today

Demand Shorter Day and Increased Pay—Men Out at Virginia, Bemidji and Other Points (By United Press)

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—More than 1,000 men were on strike today demanding higher wages and shorter hours in iron and lumber industries.

A general strike was also in progress in Bemidji among lumber workers, according to federal agents. They charged the labor trouble to I. W. W. organizations. Although no clashes are looked for, federal agents and local officials are preparing for any emergency.

Cooks and Waiters Strike in Minneapolis

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, May 1.—Scores of folks here had cold lunches today because of a May day walkout of 600 cooks and waiters at the leading hotels. The strikers demand more money. In St. Paul the employees were granted the demands of the union, and cooks and waiters were "on the job."

Recount of Ballots Ordered in New Jersey

Senator Hiram Johnson Petitions Court for an Order to Recount Which is Granted (By United Press)

Newark, N. J., May 1.—An order for a recount of the ballots cast in the New Jersey presidential preference was issued today by Chief Justice William Gummere of the New Jersey supreme court.

The order was issued on the petition of Senator Hiram Johnson, who claimed he was defeated for the presidential preference vote by General Leonard Wood through a miscount.

Johnson Men Claim California Victory

As the Desperate Campaign for Presidential Endorsement is Nearing Its End. (United Press)

San Francisco, May 1.—California is nearing the close of the most desperate political campaign in its history. The issue is a clear cut one of the popularity of Senator Hiram Johnson as against the popularity of Herbert Hoover.

For weeks the Johnson organization has exerted themselves to elect twenty-six delegates to the Chicago convention pledged to Johnson, while the Hoover organization has gained a firm foundation, firm enough to challenge every effort they can put forth by the Johnson men.

The campaign will not close until the last ballot is cast at 7 A. M. the night of May 4. Several big Johnson meetings are scheduled for Monday. The Hoover men however are doing little after today.

Bitterness was engendered largely by the fact that Johnson, after years of political supremacy in the state and a distinct possibility as the republican nominee for president, was opposed in the most vital spot—his home state—by another Californian, who during all these years has not been in politics.

Johnson men are making sweeping claims of decisive victory.

Fear Bolshevism If Revolt is Successful

Principal Officers in Rebellion Have Soviet Leanings Except General Obregon (By United Press)

Washington, May 1.—Fear that if the revolution against Carranza is successful the next government of Mexico will be dedicated to the principles of sovietism, was expressed today by officials in close touch with Mexican affairs.

This was based principally on the records of General Salvador Alvarado, representative in Washington of the Obregon revolt.

He is mentioned prominently as the man likely to be chosen provisional president of the revolutionary government.

Alvarado was governor of the state of Yucatan for about three years following inauguration of President Carranza. Information here shows that in this post he favorably established a system that carried out the principles of extreme sovietism farther than has any regime except the present Russian soviet.

Governor de la Huerta of Sonora and General Calles, one of the military leaders of the revolution are reputed to be of decided socialist leanings. On the other hand General Obregon, the center figure in the revolution, has declared that if he becomes president all domestic and foreign interests in Mexico will be protected and development of resources will be encouraged.

WATCH YOUR STEP!

Peter Rabbit's Near Blunder Described in Thrift Story Written Expressly for Government Savings Organization.

By Thornton W. Burgess. (Copyright, 1920, by Thornton W. Burgess. All rights reserved.)

"WATCH your step, Peter Rabbit! Watch your step!" shouted Happy Jack Squirrel excitedly as he leaped down from a branch of a hickory tree and jerked his tail as if he were trying to break it off.

Peter Rabbit stopped short and sat up with a most surprised look on his face. "Why should I watch my step?" he demanded, and stared all about him to see what could have so excited Happy Jack. "Why should I watch my step? What ails you anyway, Happy Jack Squirrel?"

Seeing that Peter had stopped, Happy Jack gave a little sigh. "Thank goodness," said he, "you didn't do it."

Life Tree In Danger.

"Didn't do what?" demanded Peter looking more puzzled than ever.

"Didn't step on that little tree I planted for my great-great-grandchildren," replied Happy Jack promptly. "If you had stepped on it I'm afraid that would have been the end of it. This is a queer world. No matter how thrifty a person may be, the carelessness of someone else may make that thrift useless."

While Happy Jack was talking Peter Rabbit had continued to stare about him more puzzled than ever. "I don't see any tree that I could possibly step on," said he. "Are you crazy, Happy Jack?"

"No, I'm not crazy," replied Happy Jack. "Look right down in front of you under your nose. Do you see that little green plant coming up through the dead leaves?"

Peter looked down and nodded. "Yes," said he. "I see it. What of it?"

"That's a young hickory tree," declared Happy Jack. "I planted it for my great-great-grandchildren, and you mustn't step on it. It will be a big tree like the one I am sitting in, which was planted by my own great-great-grandfather."

Must Think of the Future, Too.

Peter turned up his woolly little nose scornfully. "Do you mean to tell me, Happy Jack Squirrel, that you are worrying about a tree that you won't live to see grow up, and from which you won't get so much as one hickory nut?" he demanded.

"Didn't I just tell you that it is my great-great-grandchildren I am thinking about?" retorted Happy Jack sharply. "The trouble with you thrift-loving people is that you never look ahead. You think only of the present, and that is pure selfishness. You don't give a thought to those who will come after you. You think only of yourself, and your children and their children will have to scramble for a living and take what they can find. My great-great-grandfather planted this very tree I am sitting in and a lot of others that I and my family might have use of before I am old enough to eat my grandfather and my father planted trees, and each fall I do the same thing. That sort of thing is thrift. Peter Rabbit, again Peter Rabbit scratched a long ear with a long hindfoot and the pointed look returned to his face. "I thought," said he, "that thrift is just saving things."

The Best Kind of Thrift.

"That is one kind of thrift. That is, if it is the things saved are to be used again," replied Happy Jack. "But the best kind of thrift is saving a thing and then putting it where it will increase. That is an investment. I saved that nut last fall and planted it. Already it has begun to grow, and some day there will be a big hickory tree."

just that one. That is, there will if you don't step on it."

"I won't," interrupted Peter hastily, and backed away a little farther.

"That nut was an investment," added Happy Jack.

"Investment?" repeated Peter, rolling his tongue around the big word as if he enjoyed it. "Investment? I never have known the meaning of that word until now."

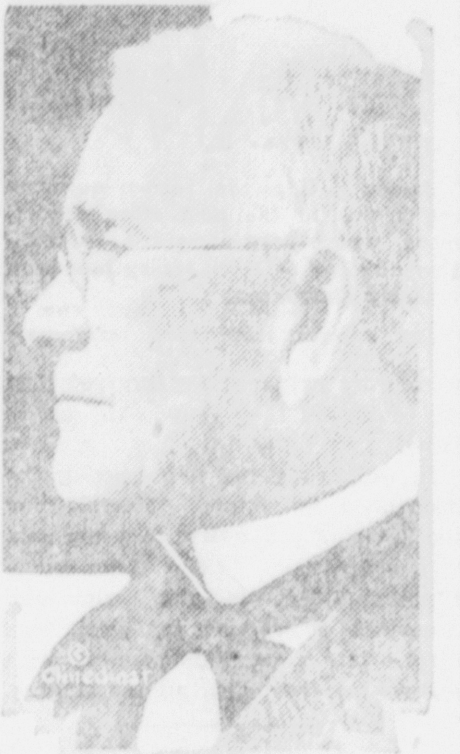

"Probably you never heard it before," said Happy Jack drolly.

He Learns of Thrift Stamps.

"I have too heard it before," retorted Peter. "I heard it this very morning. Farmer Brown's boy was over by the dear old Briar-hatch and I heard him tell another boy that Thrift Stamps, whatever they are, are the best investment in the world for boys and girls, and that he hoped that every boy and girl in the whole country would buy at least one Thrift Stamp every week. He said they ought to be for their own good and the good of their country. I don't know anything about Thrift Stamps, but if they are an investment it must be that they grow. Anyway, Farmer Brown's boy was telling in earnest."

Happy Jack Squirrel chuckled happily. "Of course they must grow," said he. "For myself I prefer hickory-nuts, but probably that's because I am a squirrel. So there are Thrift Stamps! That is the best news I've heard for a long time. If they keep on coming out these humans will be as wise as a squirrel. Thrift Stamps! That's great! I hope every boy and girl will buy a Thrift Stamp. Well, I can't stop to answer any longer. So long, Peter. And for goodness sake do watch your step!"

Dig Fish From Mud.

In less civilized parts of the continent of Africa—on the Gambia river, for example—we find fish-spearing as well as mud-searching. The West African negroes are very fond of the "mud-eel," which, according to some naturalists, ought to be classed as a reptile, on account of its foot-like fins. When the floods subside thousands of these are left high and dry, and promptly bury themselves in the mud, which soon becomes hard and earthy, and here they would remain till the next inundation if the negroes did not come along with wooden forks and dig them out.—Exchange.

Lutheran Relief Campaign
A campaign among Lutheran churches for $1,800,000 for European relief work will begin on May 9th, till May 16th.
In the past year it spent about a million dollars toward this end. It heartened the despairing. It re-established where all was destroyed and church-life had stopped.
Have you ever seen a child emaciated with lack of food until it resembled an aged person more than a child? There are millions of them in Europe. Dr. J. A. Morehead, chairman of the Lutheran commission in Europe, says: "The need in all these countries is overwhelming in extent, and heartbreaking. In a perfectly literal sense, our vocation is to rescue the perishing, physically, morally and spiritually."

The Lutheran church counts on cooperation in this relief work that is so urgent and worthy of the greatest effort that can be put forth.

CUTAWAY SWEATER IN STYLE
Latest Fashion Is Dashing and Different From Many Others That Were Popular.

Sweaters grow prettier and prettier. From being a merely utilitarian article, donned for warmth in camp or on a sailboat, or after a game of tennis, the sweater has come to be the very pivotal point of the summer costume. Everything else is planned and purchased to match the charming sweater bought first of all on account of its stunning style or its appealing color. And, of course, there must be several sport costumes to go with the several sweaters every woman now has to have. There is the sweater for roughing it in camp, and there is the sweater for posing about on the country club veranda—and between are many other varieties of sweaters.

Newest of the new is the cutaway slipon. Needless to prophesy that this sweater will have a tremendous vogue. It is so smart, so dashing and so different from other sweaters that have come before that its vogue is predestined. The gay little cutaway fastens on the shoulders with pearl buttons and buttonholes and neckline, armhole and turned-up lower edge are finished with crocheted stitch in contrasting color. The sweater itself is knitted—an easy stitch with which every woman who has knitted fur sweaters is familiar. The ribbed section at the front of the waistline makes the little cutaway jacket fit like a glove and the cutaway extension is turned up and caught with buttons, making pockets—into which nothing must be put, however, for fear of spoiling the trim line of the sweater.

Novel House Dress.
A love of a house dress is of rainbow pink velvet and chinchilla. The frock is of knee length with a chinchilla band about the hem. This same fur makes collars and cuffs. There are cartridge plaits over the hips. The gown laps kimono fashion and is held fast by a string girdle of velvet and emerald silk cords.

Makers of Gowns Take Into Consideration What Is to Be Worn on the Head.

Headresses are receiving more and more attention from the greatest French dressmakers. In the past, writes a Paris fashion authority, the woman who wanted to complete her evening toilette by a headress was compelled to search through the shops for a suitable one, but this was not always easy to find. Often the only reward for such a shopping trip was the finding of a hair ornament that did not in the least carry out the idea of the costume.

Now the maker of the evening gown designs a headress to accompany it, so that it is no longer a matter of wearing anything that one may happen to pick up in a shop. As a result, the headress is becoming more and more important.

Poiret shows great art in these. M. Worth makes beautiful draped turbans without crowns to complete his evening dresses. He uses the chin chain as well as dangling earrings on his turbans, the whole adding a note of great brilliancy to the costume.

We may expect to see quantities of tulle and silks used in hats for some time to come, due largely to the ruined condition of the straw industry. Reboux combines tulle and lace with remarkable skill. A pretty example of her method is seen in an evening hat which has the crown tulle draped over the hair like a cap and allowed to fall in two soft loops at the back. To this is set a delicately plaited lace brim.

SEEING AMERICA

A few years ago some Americans interested in promoting the scenic or resort attractions of the nation evolved the slogan "See America First." That was before the war interfered with the summer exodus to Europe. Aside from the 2,000,000 soldiers and others who went abroad "on business" for the last six years our people have been compelled to confine whatever sightseeing they might do to America. Thus the campaign calling attention to what there is to see in our own land has been greatly aided by force of circumstances.

The bars against European travel have been lowered, but the facilities for carrying the many who might wish to go abroad, are likely to prove woefully inadequate. It is estimated that it is not possible for more than 100,000 to obtain accommodations on trans-Atlantic vessels during the coming season. These figures indicate that European hotel keepers are likely to be disappointed in the expected influx of Americans, for, while the number is considerable, it will make little impression when scattered over the lands which the tourists are likely to seek.

In seeing America one is not necessarily confined to the public facilities provided for travel. It is possible to go far in one's own conveyance, and last year tens of thousands wandered up and down and across in their own machines. They went where they pleased and when they pleased, and many of them carried their own camp outfits and were independent of hotels and other public entertainers. More people saw America last year than ever before and there is no reason to doubt that the number will be increased this summer, for the going habit, once contracted, is disposed to grow. In many localities the tourist business is the mainstay of the inhabitants. Florida's annual income would shrink amazingly were the tourist crop to fail, and the same source contributes heavily to Colorado and the other Rocky Mountain states, not mentioning California or the Atlantic coast resorts. The plea to "See America First" may have been prompted by those interested in railroad travel, but the perfection attained in the automobile has made realization possible for many who otherwise...

When facilities are increased, Americans may again seek Europe in greater numbers than ever before, but would never have essayed a long trip they will at least have possessed themselves of a knowledge of their own land and will be better able to appreciate the things to be seen abroad since they already have seen America.

"PUT HER OVER"

The campaign for funds to finance the Brainerd Baseball club for the season of 1920 cannot be put over any too soon in Brainerd. The official opening is Monday, May 3, with John J. Cummins, chief clerk of the Northern Pacific railway shops, in general command of the drive in town and shops.

The opening of Duluth baseball is set for May 9 with Crosby playing the Duluth Indians in Duluth. International Falls opens its home season on May 8 with Eveleth as opponents.

On all sides baseball is taking its place as the big summer sport. Accordingly it will be to the interest of every fan in Brainerd to help the team get a flying start this year. Steady practice will be required, for no team, no matter what the caliber of its individual players, can expect to compete with a fast opponent unless there is team play among the locals.

When the collectors start out Monday, give them all the cooperation you can. A good start means half the battle for funds is won.

"Let's put her over!"

World's Military Burden Greater Than Ever Before

Great War, Hailed as the "Last Conflict," Leaves Heavy Yoke—Every Country Planning Bigger Armies

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 Paris, May 1.—Militarism exists today in almost every country in the world on a bigger and more crushing basis than before the war.

"La grande guerre," which was to have been the world's last war and which was to have inaugurated an era of universal peace and reduced armaments has had for its sole effect to date the increasing of the military burden of almost every country in the world.

In fact the only exceptions are those defeated countries whose armaments were limited by the peace treaties, but even these—and notably Germany and Austria—are doing everything in their power to escape the treaty clauses and increase their armaments to a much larger basis than is now stipulated.

Even the United States, presumably the most peaceful country in the world, has failed to escape from the mania for increased armies which "the last war" has entailed.

Coupled with the increased cost of living, these increased armaments and their increased cost of maintenance will throw on the people of every country in the world a military burden infinitely larger and more crushing than was borne before the war. The only thing that makes it seem supportable at all is that if it is more than what it was before the war, it is at least less than what the military expenses were during the war.

While all nations of the world have not yet succeeded in reorganizing their armies on the basis which the recent war appears to have rendered necessary, yet in almost every country the reorganization projects are under consideration, and there is not a single one that does not provide for an increase over what the military effectiveness and costs were before the war.

While, theoretically, the question of the military force to be maintained is purely an internal one which every country has a right to settle for itself, yet as a matter of fact, every country, as has always been the case in the past, is obliged to govern the size of its military effectiveness and strength by what its neighbors are doing.

Likewise as in the past, Germany is still the world's predominating factor in this respect. The peace treaty originally reduced the German army to 100,000 men. Later this was temporarily increased to 200,000 in order to enable Germany to meet internal troubles and possible bolshevik assaults from without.

In reality, the most accurate information from Germany shows that she still has 1,000,000 men under arms. These consist of her regular army of 400,000 men; of 12,000 soldiers temporarily serving with the marine; and four large organizations attached to the ministry of the interior for internal defense totaling over 600,000 men. With every indication and certainty that Germany intends to maintain as much of her military strength as possible every European country is forced to take this into consideration in her own army reorganization.

England, for example, has definitely decided upon her new army organization which is for 485,000 men divided into fourteen divisions and organized into a regular and a territorial army. The budget for this military organization is 125,000,000 pounds as against 29,000,000 pounds before the war. This means a military burden four times larger than before the war.

Naturally, the size of England's army, just as much as the size of Germany's army, dictates the size for every other country.

At Washington despite the recommendations of Secretary Baker for an army of 500,000 men, the present bills before congress provide only for 300,000 men. Nevertheless, this is double the United States effectiveness of before the war.

In Italy the reorganization of the army provides for an increase from 1008 regiments of infantry to 120 and from 38 regiments of artillery to 30 drawn by horses and 15 by tractors. While a shorter period of military service is provided for the financial burden is immeasurably increased.

In France, the definite plans for the reorganization of the army have not yet been worked out. In the meantime France has just called to the colors her entire class of 1920 and as her period of service has not yet been changed they come under the old three year term of service adopted just before the war. With the necessity of furnishing the great bulk of the troops that are to hold down the occupied portion of Germany for the next fifteen—or thirty—years, as well as furnishing the great bulk of the troops for all the foreign expeditions necessary for enforcing all the various clauses of the peace treaty. France hasn't a ghost of a chance of decreasing her pre-war military burden either in men or financially.

While Sweden appointed a commission to see if her regular army could not be replaced by militia, the force of military events and increased military organization on every hand caused this commission to go out of business last December.

In Holland, the action of the chamber in suppressing a military budget of 1,500,000 florins caused the war minister to resign.

Hungary is more determined than ever that the peace conference shall let her have a larger army than originally conceded.

But the military pretensions—and consequential burdens of Germany, Hungary and the other defeated states—are tame indeed compared with those of the new states that have been born out of the war. All of the new border states that have come out of Russia, for example, insist on maintaining armies that will be an increase rather than decrease over what the Russian army was before the war.

Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Serbia all feel that their existence depends upon military strength. While they haven't even had time to think about reorganizing their armies on a peace time basis, it is absolutely certain that whenever that time comes each will insist on an individual army that taken altogether will more than offset any reduction that might have been hoped for by the breaking up of the old time military levy of Germany and Austria.

Aside from this actual increase in the standing armies of the world that "la grande guerre" has brought on the increased cost of living with its increased cost of army maintenance means that the world is looking forward to a greater and more crushing military burden than ever before carried.

The First Automobile.

What is said to be the first automobile in the world was discovered by the officers of the A. E. F. near Le Mans, France, in the magnificent stables of the estate of the Marquis de Broc. The authentic record of this self-propelled road car is that it was built (at enormous expense) in 1878. It was used on long road trips and had a speed of about 28 miles an hour; but the marquis stopped using it, as it frightened the neighbors' horses! The car was discovered by officers who were invited to the castle by the marquis. It somewhat resembles a stagecoach in design—having a powerful engine in the front and a chimney in the rear. It was propelled by steam, much as our steam rollers are today. The small wire railing at the top was intended to hold baggage, while traveling; and it is evident that the car was fitted up with every convenience that could be contrived at the time. The car is now stored in the marquis' garage—Hereward Carrington, in Leslie's.

 Youngest Son of a Civil War Veteran

Oscar L. Gregory and Son

Oscar L. Gregory, himself seventy-nine years of age, claims that his nineteen-months-old son is the "youngest son of a Civil War veteran." Mr. Gregory was mustered into the Union Army in 1861 and served three years and nine months as a member of Company D, 13th Iowa Volunteer Infantry.

SENT DOWN WATER

Example of Golden Rule in Western Utah.

Farmers of the Sevier Valley Gladly Deprived Themselves of Precious Liquid to Save Crops of the Less Fortunate.

It had been the hottest and driest summer ever recorded on the Pahvant plains in western Utah. More water than ever before was needed for the Pahvant crops; but as the previous winter had been recorded as having an extremely light snowfall, the late summer flow of the Sevier river (pronounced "severe") from the snow-stores of the Wasatch mountains, was at a minimum.

Therefore in spite of rigid water economy there was an insufficient supply to mature the crops in that region. Early in the season it became apparent that if some good rains did not come at timely intervals there would be widespread devastation of the crops; and despite the earnest hopes of the people, the windows of the sky remained sealed so far as the rain was concerned, and the brassy skies drank up every speck of moisture everywhere, even draining the reservoir dry a month before the potatoes and beets were matured. The apples fell to the ground withered, and the alfalfa stubble could not send out the shoots for the third crop of hay, the drought was so thorough.

After experts had been consulted with no good result, an official of the state farm bureau, with a few other citizens, made an inspiring ride in automobiles up through a small range of mountains into the Sevier valley, where the crops had not suffered greatly, owing to the fact that the farmers in this region held primary rights to the water of the river. The modern Paul Reveres, coming to the rescue of the unfortunate farmers further down the stream, appealed to the irrigation company officials in this region, and requested the loan of the river for 24 hours.

They were assured in response that the Golden Rule reached not only across the Sevier valley, but on down to the Pahvant as well, and a vote taken was unanimous in favor of closing the Sevier valley head gates by midnight that very night and leaving them closed as requested.

The returning midnight riders reached Pahvant valley many hours before the water, which began to arrive late the next forenoon. The mammoth Sevier river, no longer full and turbulent at this time of the year, but flowing abundantly, nevertheless, went bounding joyfully down through the stony canyons, carrying good tidings of the genuine friendship of the Sevier valley farmers.

That afternoon every Pahvant farmer was in his fields guiding the precious water across the lands, where it kissed back into liveliness and hope the despondent crops; and all that night and the next day the men labored on in gratitude, until the water began to dwindle, and then finally ceased. But it was enough; 2,200 acres of crops worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, were saved and a community was made happy.—Christian Science Monitor.

"PRETTY BABY"

Musical Comedy at New Park Theatre Tonight—Tuneful Numbers in Plenty

If you don't want to go to work "the morning after" whistling the tuneful numbers in Jimmie Hodges' new show don't see "Pretty Baby" at the New Park Theatre tonight.

Nobody who has seen the latest creation of his latest musical show has escaped the magic of the haunting melodies used in his new production. After the show has hit town you will hear the girl back of the ribbon counter humming, you will go to your office and will find the book-keeper softly and unconsciously whistling it to himself as he goes over the items. You will hear the phonographs and the player pianos grinding it out as you pass the music stores. After a while you will begin to get aggravated, you will become decidedly exasperated, and then you will get in good humor and join the gaiety of the city and of the nation. Don Lanning, Jean Gaynor, Ada Langley, Joe Richardson and Marion Kelly will all render numbers in "Pretty Baby" assisted by the famous Jimmie Hodges' "Dixie Chorus" which will have you humming and whistling many days after their engagement here.

At the Best Theatre

This evening the first of a series of talks, under the auspices of the Minnesota Sound Government Association, will be given in this city at The Best Theatre.

Mr. J. Edmund four minute speaker, will talk on the organization and leadership of the Nonpartisan League, and the one reel motion picture entitled "Who's Your Friend," will be shown in addition to the regular program. The picture deals with the origin of the Nonpartisan League, and features Max Fignara in the leading roll. The picture is highly interesting and entertaining; Mr. Fignara is being supported by an excellent cast. Other talks and pictures relating to the Nonpartisan League will be shown at intervals of about five days, the exact date to be announced later.

Works 40 Years on Lincoln's Portrait

Thorp's Picture Finished and Accepted by Senate; Now Adorning the Corridor

Washington, May 1.—Spending decades on the work, Col. Freeman Thorp has completed the painting of a portrait of Abraham Lincoln which was authorized in the 60's through the interest and activity of Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts. Colonel Thorp has painted portraits of four other Presidents—Grant, Garfield, McKinley and Cleveland.

The Lincoln portrait has just been accepted unanimously by the senate, and is the only Lincoln portrait in the senate corridor. It will hang with Stuart's Washington, Sully's Jefferson and the copy of Stuart's Adams.

Colonel Thorp knew Lincoln, and sketched him from life at Geneva, Illinois. Just after Lincoln had been elected president, and again sketched him from life at the time of the delivery of the Gettysburg address.

Through the interest of Charles Sumner and other senators of the period just following the war, Colonel Thorp was authorized to paint his conception of Lincoln. A study was built secretly for him on the roof of the senate wing of the capitol, which he occupied for twenty years. He was given the privilege of the floor of both house and senate, so he could consult men who had known Lincoln. He studied carefully the life and writing of Lincoln and has studied every extant photograph and painting of the martyr president.

His conception of Lincoln is different from others in that it presents Lincoln in a more smiling and more animated mood than is generally depicted. The smiling, yet gentle and tender character of the eyes is especially notable.

MINNESOTA LAND CLEARING SPECIAL

To be at Pequot on June 10—Talks on Land Clearing and Demonstrations to be Given

TRAIN EQUIPMENT DESCRIBED

Made Possible Through Cooperation of Businessmen of Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth

The Minnesota Land Clearing Special will be in Pequot June 11th where they will give a demonstration on pulling of stumps, how best to handle the land clearing situation. This train makes only one stop in Crow Wing county which is at Pequot and anyone interested should be there at that time. The demonstration train will consist of nine cars, two box cars for dining and kitchen, sleeper, two cars for equipment, two flat flat cars for equipment, one passenger car and one caboose for office.

Through the cooperation of the business men's organizations of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, the stump puller and dynamite companies and the railroad companies, the Agricultural College is enabled to operate a land clearing train for six weeks in northern Minnesota. A schedule has been worked up including twenty-one towns reaching fourteen counties, a copy of which is enclosed. McGrath has been selected providing, of course, that the people of your community want a demonstration and will assist in making it a success. It is now planned to be at Pequot Friday, June 11th, 1920.

The only direct expense there will be to the community is to furnish five teams and drivers for the day, and a man or boy with car to run errands. It is hoped to clear more than enough land to pay for the teams. The farmers on whose farm the demonstration is conducted can well afford to furnish the teams in return for the clearing done, five good steady teams being required.

The equipment will include dynamite and electric blasting machine and full equipment for blasting and stones and ditches stump pullers with all modern implements, home made stump puller and other equipment.

The demonstration will show the use of the best up-to-date means of land clearing and many handy devices for making the work of land clearing easier and cheaper.

Most of the older settlers have seen stump pullers operated and have used dynamite. The demonstration will not be new to them. However, few of them have used the latest machines, take-ups, power pulleys, pillers, etc. This much will be new to them.

While most men have used dynamite, not many of them have used the cheaper grades which for most kinds of land clearing work are as effective pound for pound as the higher priced dynamite. This effectiveness of the lower grades will be fully demonstrated.

Not many have used the electric blasting outfit which is very convenient and safer than fuse.

Very few have seen the home made plier and trip at work. The demonstration will be worth while to every one interested in developing northern Minnesota. It will be especially helpful to the many new settlers inexperienced in land clearing. In addition to its educational value, the land clearing special it is felt sure, will result in giving a great stimulus to land clearing and general development of northern Minnesota.

In order to make this demonstration cooperation is required in advertising. It is, of course, useless to make a demonstration unless people are there to see it. We will need cooperation in informing everyone within driving distance the time, place and nature of the demonstration. Be a booster and help get out a crowd.

The train is at Pequot June 11th and at Aitkin June 13th. There will be an afternoon, morning and evening meeting. Either the evening before or the evening of the demonstration, according to train connections, there will be a meeting of farmers and business men to discuss questions of importance in land clearing. The program is to consist of short talks, motion pictures and discussion.

FREE LECTURE ON BUSINESS

Illustrated by Motion Pictures at the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday Evening, May 4

LECTURER A BUSINESS EXPERT

At 6:15 P. M. House and Social Committee Will Serve Business Men's and Business Women's Luncheon (Communicated)

The idea of a free lecture on "Business" illustrated by motion pictures is meeting with the hearty support of the business men and their clerks.
This moving picture lecture, as you who read the Dispatch already know, is to be shown at the Chamber of Commerce parlors on Tuesday evening, May 4th. The lecture will take up every problem vital to the success of any business.

G. W. Sulley the lecturer, is a business expert and has "gone through the mill" himself and he knows whereof he speaks. He brings out forcefully such pertinent matters as "stopping the leaks in your business", "The mistakes that seem harmless at the time but which really cause big losses", "How clerks should treat the customers", "The difference between a dissatisfied and a satisfied patron." Hints that will mean hundreds of dollars to every merchant in Brainerd.

In order that every business man will keep this event in mind, free tickets are being distributed for merchants and their clerks. Don't let the fact that you may have been overlooked in this distribution keep you away. The lecture is for you and for your clerks. Don't stay away and let the other fellow get all the good things. A number of added features will be included in this program starting at 8 o'clock.

At 6:15 the House and Social Committee have arranged a Business Men's and Business Women's Luncheon. A charge of 50 cents per plate will be made to cover the cost of the eats. Come to this supper and bring a friend if possible and stay for the lecture following.

So interested are a number of the business houses that they have notified the Chamber's secretary that they will buy tickets for each of their clerks and insist on their attendance, at both the supper and lecture. This is the spirit every business man who is up on his toes should show. If you have not already done so it will be wise to get in touch with the secretary and make supper reservations for your clerical force.
You will find it will be a mighty good move on your part.

Bread upon the water which will bring in returns a hundredfold. Remember the event. Remember the date—Tuesday, May 4th.

Tested Eighteen Months to Prove Perfection

TWO years ago a puncture-proof cord tire was unheard of. The public clamored for it; all tire makers tried to build it.

Lee was making the only successful puncture-proof pneumatic fabric tire. Motorists naturally looked to Lee for a puncture-proof cord.

Lee has succeeded in building such a tire. It has all the economy and resiliency of the best cord tires. It practically eliminates blowouts, tread separation, broken sidewalls and other common tire troubles. And it is positively puncture-proof.

For 18 months this tire was cruelly tested before being offered to the public. It rode as lightly and as smoothly as a cord without the puncture-proof feature. It was as economical on fuel and oil. It was easier on tubes. And—it outlasted cord tires that were not punctureproof!

Let us demonstrate the economy of the new Lee Cord Puncture-Proof.

NOTICE TO RETAILERS

The moving picture, entitled "The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them," will be shown to business people in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms on TUESDAY night, MAY 4 at 8 o'clock under the auspices of The Chamber of Commerce. Mr. G. W. Sulley, a noted lecturer on modern business methods, will explain the pictures, which will deal with the following subjects:

1. Retail Failures and Their Causes.
2. Store Organization.
3. Newspaper Advertising.
4. Window Displays.
5. Clerks' Efficiency.
6. Selling Methods.
7. Credit Business.
8. System in Retail Stores.

Much enthusiasm has been created in other cities where the lecture has been delivered, and it is expected that a capacity audience will greet

PAYS TO BUILD BIRD HOUSES

Feathered Songsters, Through Their Destruction of Insects, Increase Yield of Farm.

Birds are desirable to have about the premises, not only on account of their beauty and song but because of their economic worth. The little feathered songsters are especially useful as insect destroyers during the breeding period, when they have to work early and late to obtain sufficient food for their nestlings. One way to increase the number making your property their summer home is to put out feeders, bits of wood and twine during the nest-building season for the birds to use in building their habitations. Another way is to build safe retreats for them in which they can rear their young comfortably. Most of the houses will be occupied year after year. In fact, no attraction for summer birds is more effective than plenty of houses suited to the needs and habits of the various kinds of house birds. During late hours the construction of a few of these bird dwellings is fascinating and useful work.

Farmers' Bulletin 663, prepared by the United States bureau of biological survey, gives clear working directions, with illustrations, for a large number of bird houses—both of the single and apartment house variety. This bulletin may be had free by writing the department of agriculture, Washington.

TOWN RUN ON BUSINESS LINES

Municipal Departments of Lakewood, O., Work Through Mayor's Office—Makes for Co-Operation.

From his military training in the Spanish-American war and his business training since, Mayor Louis E. Hill of Lakewood has adopted methods which he believes are novel in municipal affairs.

The idea, the mayor says, is to keep him in direct touch with all municipal problems and works and to bring about greater co-operation between heads of departments in a business administration.

Army correspondence procedure governs all communications between heads of departments. A letter between departments goes first through the hands of the mayor, who forwards it to its destination. It is answered by indorsement on the original letter and returned, again through the mayor's office, to the writer.

Every Tuesday morning at ten o'clock the mayor holds a conference with all department heads, at which every phase of each department's work is discussed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MAKE WAR ON THE BARBERRY

Any Number of Substitutes for Shrub Which Is One of Farmer's Worst Enemies.

Landscape gardeners are recommending substitutes for the common barberry, a host of the black stem rust of wheat which causes enormous losses each year to the wheat crop.

Where a purple variety is desired in the shrubbery border, the purple-leaved plum may be substituted, according to P. H. Elwood, Jr., assistant professor of landscape architecture at the Ohio State university. This may also be used as a high background mass or as specimen tree groups on the lawn. The purple hazel may also be used as an accent of color in the shrubbery mass.

Many other shrubs can be used where the common barberry has or would have been planted, such as the five-leaved angelica, red-twined dog wood, pink weigelia, winged euonymus, white kerria and high bush cranberry.

The common barberry must go, and the sooner we make up our minds to it the better. Root it out, and put something else in its place, and soon its absence will be forgotten.

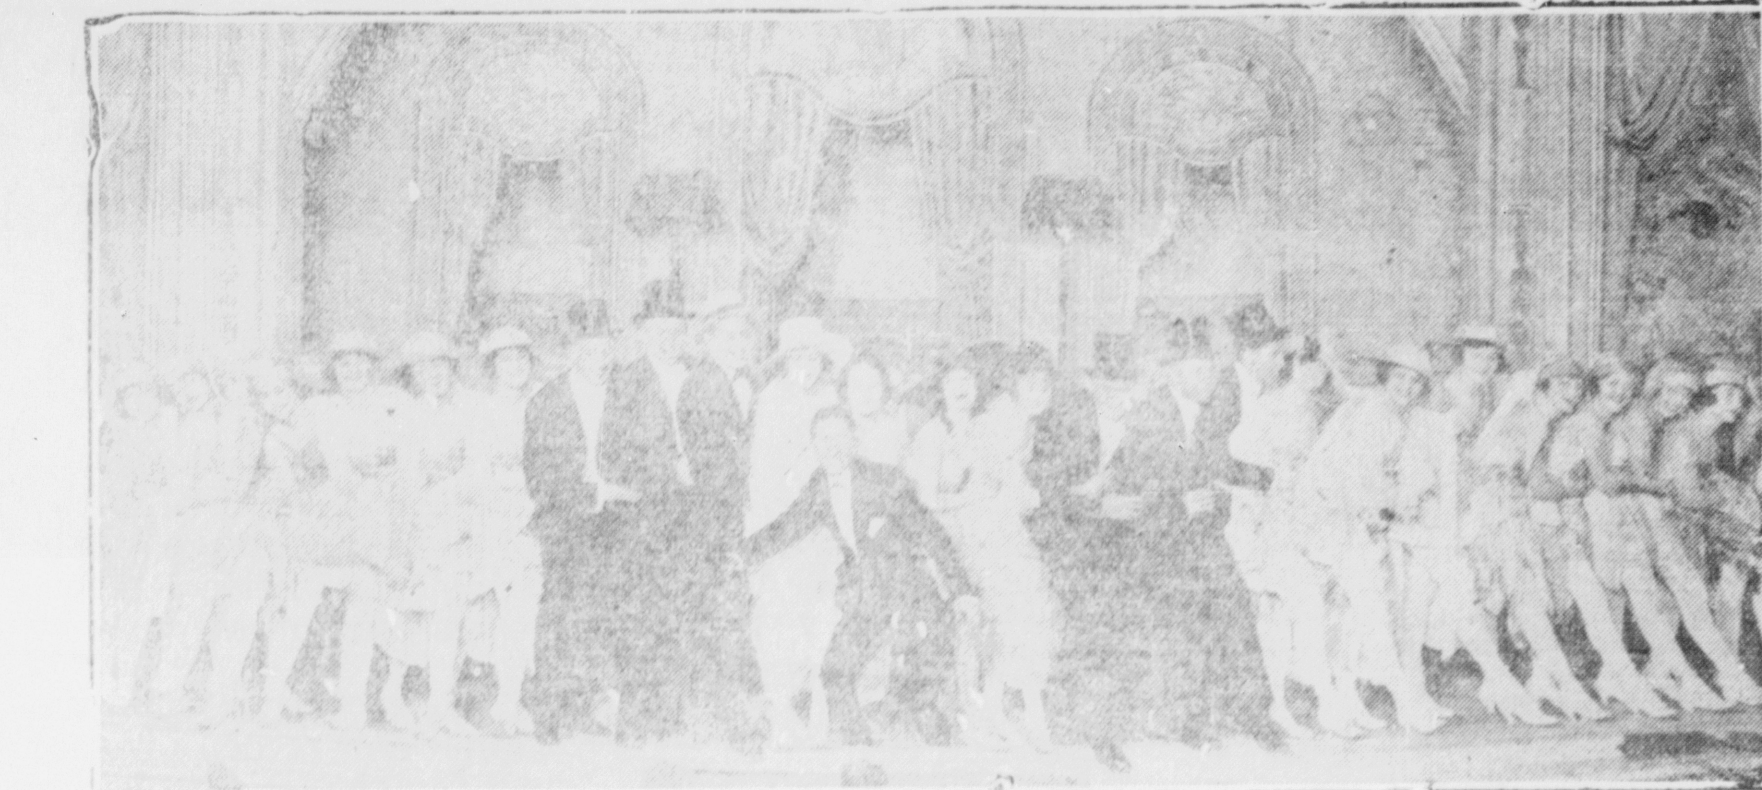

Plant Memorial Trees.

While various kinds of memorials are being erected for our departed soldiers, none is more simple and more appropriate than the tree, which will be a living emblem of the remembrance of a grateful people to those who gave their lives upon the altar of their country. Statues and monuments after a few years may come to look cheap, and they may be meaningless to the next generation, but in the memorial tree nature will assist man in keeping fresh and green the memory of American heroes.

His Consideration.

"Looky yur, Gap," chided a friend, "What in thunder made you tell your wife you'd be home from the speaking dead shore by nine o'clock, when you know good and well it won't let out until half past ten or eleven?"

"She always begins to worry about me as soon as she thinks it's about time for me to show up," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "So I figured I'd give her plenty of time to worry. My wife is like all the rest of the women; she hain't happy unless she's pestering about nuthin'."—Kansas City Star.

LAST MAJOR LEAGUE CHANCE FOR B. ROTH

Hard Hitting Outfielder Is Tough Bird to Handle.

Unless He Becomes Domesticated This Year His Career in Fast Company Is Expected to Be Terminated.

Bobby Roth, hard-hitting outfielder, recently traded to the Washington club by the Boston Red Sox, along with Shannon and in exchange for Harper, Foster and Menosky, is working on his last major league opportunity, according to advices from the stockholders of the District of Columbia team. Roth is a tough "bird" for managers to handle, but will become domesticated this year or his major league career will be abruptly terminated by Clarke Griffith.

When the deal sending Roth and Shannon to Washington was announced, friends and advisers of Griffith rushed to the pilot to offer their sympathies in advance of what they termed a troublesome season. Roth undoubtedly was painted in darker colors than necessary. Griffith was given extensive information as to how best to manage a confirmed "recalcitrant." The advice was accepted and thanks tendered in payment for it, and then Griffith did a little forecasting on his own hook.

"Roth has a bad name," said Griffith, "but there will be no trouble between us, I am sure. Personally, I am not in favor of this practice of giving a ball player a bad name, and from the first I am going to assure and prove to Roth that I will be his friend so long as he does as directed and gives us his best work. I feel that I know something about Roth. I have heard a lot about his grouches, but I also figure perhaps he had a reason for those grouches, so I will try to get rid of the cause and let the effect take care of itself."

Roth has sent word he was well pleased with his transfer to the Griffith organization, which shows he will start with a clear and happy conscience, regardless of what difficulties may crop out at a latter date. Roth is one of the leading hitters in the American league, and is an especially smart outfielder.

MIDDIES ARE IN WARM FAVOR

Garment Is Comfortable and Pleasing, but Should Be Well and Correctly Made.

Nothing is so comfortable as a good old middy costume—and nothing looks so well on a young girl. If the middy is correct in style. But the "if" is very important. A badly cut, home-made looking middy is very poor style indeed and has a slouchy appearance that is depressing.

Some women can make presentable middy costumes on the home sewing machine, but it takes considerable skill. Careful tailoring must be put into such a costume—just as careful tailoring as would go into a cloth suit to be worn with one's best hat, white gloves and buttoned walking boots for a promenade on the avenue. Because a middy is a garment intended for informal wear is no reason why it should have the lines and general effect of a negligee or a bungalow apron—and too many home-built middy suits have just this effect. A really smart middy in the shops is not cheap, but the costume will endure a surprisingly long time and will come home from the cleaner's looking good as new. Middy suits are admirable for young girls and older women to wear for boating.

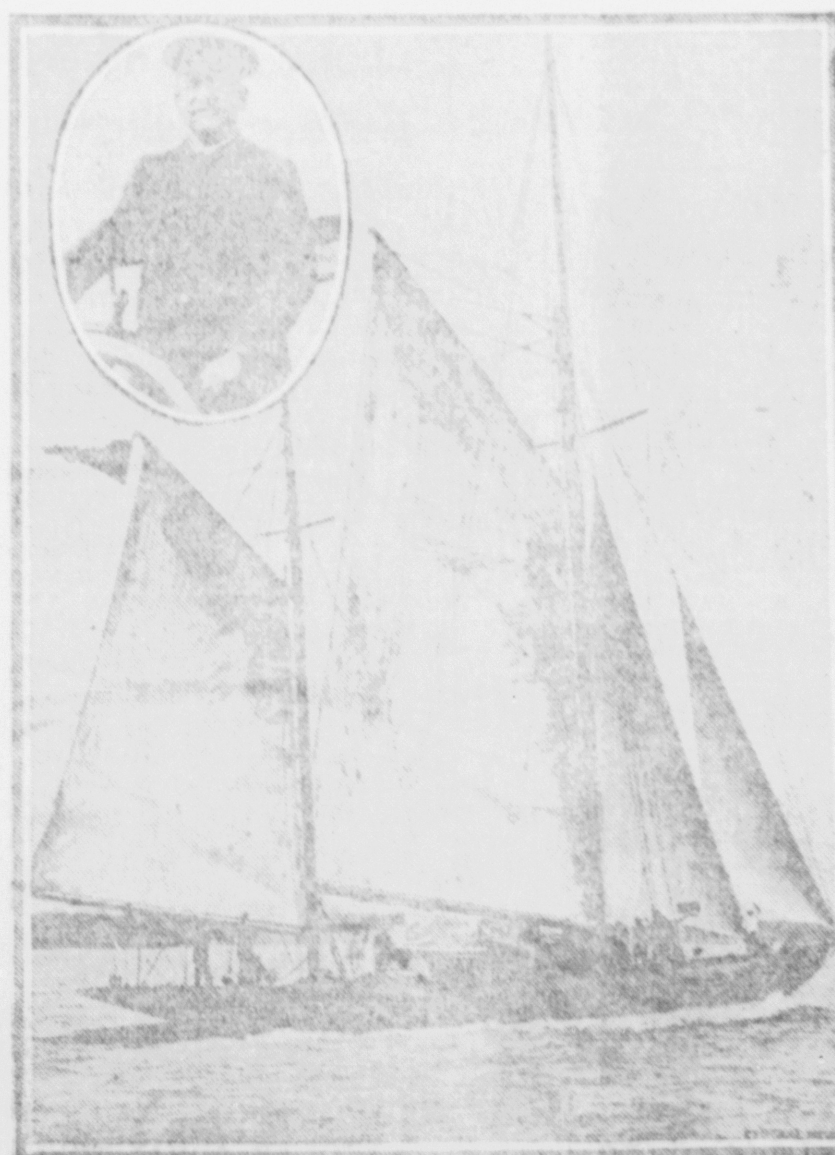

They are not correct—on women over twenty-five years old—for country club wear or even for tennis or other outdoor sports, but a woman of forty may wear a middy on yacht or motor cruiser and be quite en vogue.

Comfortable as the middy blouse is, it should not be affected by the housewife as an easy-to-work-in morning costume.

Enemies of Olive Tree.

Like other fruit trees, the olive tree has many enemies to contend with. Besides the birds, there are numerous insects which attack the fruit, the wood and the leaves. The most dreaded of these is a small fly called Dacus oleae, which is about half the size of a common house fly. The female has a sting like a wasp, with which she punctures the fruit where she deposits her eggs. It is calculated that a single fly will thus destroy 20 or 30 olives. The only known remedy is to either the fruit early, and by crushing it as once destroy the larvae.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for a list of testimonials.

Hand MR. POLITICIAN his hat. He's going. Shake hands with MR. AVERAGE MAN. He's coming to run the WORLD.

There's going to be a SQUARE DEAL. The LAW-MAKERS are the RULERS. Elect them and MONEY rules. DRAW them and the PEOPLE rule.

Every citizen is ENTITLED to an EQUAL chance to make the law. That ONLY is DEMOCRACY. We're going to HAVE it.

MR. AVERAGE MAN is HONEST. INTELLIGENT and FAIR. We'll get HIM by DRAWING LOTS for our LAW-MAKER. It's the only FAIR way. It's the SOLUTION. It has been TRIED and PROVED.

Used in ancient ATHENS, its product was the GOLDEN AGE, the pride of all the ages.

I stand for DRAWN DEMOCRACY. THOMAS KEEFE.
